

Complete our Worlds of Puppetry Museum puppet photo challenge!
Read the prompts below and take a picture with each item.

- Which puppet is your favorite? Take a selfie with your favorite puppet.
Hint: To take the best selfie with a puppet hold the phone up high and stand right next to the glass.
- What is your favorite color? Find that color on a puppet and point to it in your photo.
Fun fact: Shadow puppets from China are surprisingly known for being colorful. Don't miss our shadow puppet wall at the back of the Global Collection Gallery.
- Puppets are made of a lot of different types of materials. Find a puppet with feathers.
Extra Credit Challenge: There are many types of feathers in our museum. Can you find them all?
- It takes many special kinds of tools to build puppets. Take a picture with the one you find most interesting.
Hint: Look in the Jim Henson Collection workshop area.
- Puppeteers often have strong arm muscles to perform their puppets. Take a picture of the puppet you think might be the hardest to perform.
Extra Credit Challenge: Can you hold your hands above your head for a minute or more as puppeteers often do?
- Find your favorite animal puppet and take a picture acting like that animal.
Fun Fact: Animal puppets can be found in puppet traditions all over the world.
- There are puppets from all over the world in this museum. Find a puppet from a country other than the United States.
Extra Credit Challenge: Point to where the country is located on the map in front of the Global Collection.
- It sometimes takes several people to perform one puppet. Choose a puppet that you think needs more than one puppeteer.
Fun Fact: It takes three people to perform a type of puppetry found in Japan called Bunraku.
- Puppets can make you feel happy, sad, scared or any other emotion. Take a picture with a puppet and show us how it makes you feel.
Extra Credit Challenge: Find a puppet that makes you happy, a puppet that makes you sad, and a puppet that makes you scared.
- Find a puppet that has a feature similar to one of your and point it out in the photo.
Hint: Do you share the same hair color? Eye Color? Face shape?

Don't forget to share your favorite shots with us on social media using the hashtag #puppetryATL!

You may find your pictures showing up on our social platforms too!