

Audition Notice: Tesla Vs. Edison

This original production follows two of history's greatest genius inventors, Nikola Tesla and Thomas Edison, as they clash over their disparate visions of the future. Known as the "War of Current," the debate between alternating and direct current electricity became one of the greatest feuds in American history. This production is part of our New Directions Series; puppet show that are aimed at teen and adult audiences. This is a paid position.

This production uses table top puppetry and some rod puppetry. We are casting mainly for the role of Edison but we are also seeking understudies for the production. Please prepare a 1-2 minute monologue for your audition. Sides will be provided after securing an audition slot. Puppet manipulation will also be a part of the audition process. Prior puppet experience is not required but it is a plus.

In order to secure a slot, please follow the link below and sign up for your preferred audition time and email your headshot and resume to arijerome@puppet.org. If all slot are taken and you would still like to audition we will be accepting self-tape options. If you are interested in self-taping, please email arijerome@puppet.org and I will let you know what we want to see in your audition.
